CHAMPLAIN WINS SAYVILLE.

FRANK FARRELL'S COLT BEATS PALETTE IN A DRIVE.

More Poor Riding by Star Jockeys, Hildebrand the Chief Offender-J. E. Seagram's Irish Witch Wins-Five Favorites Defeated at Jamaica Track.

Five beaten favorites enriched the bookmakers at Jamaica yesterday, where the usual crowd of regulars braved the chilling winds from the bay and then went home dejected. There were several cases of indifferent riding by star lockeys, but this seems to be a daily incident, with no questions

Frank Farrell's colors were carried to victory in the Sayville Stakes, at a mile and a sixteenth, by Champlain, backed down to Indulged in a long duel with the Boston Stable's Palette, a 60 to 1 shot, finally beating the latter by three parts of a length in 1:47 2-5. Garnish, 5 to 2, received a poor ride from Hildebrand and finished third, two lengths away, while Canteen, 3 to 2 favorite, after being messed about by Sperling, finished head out of the money.

Hildebrand's handling of Ocean Tide in the second race, at the same distance, caused much unfavorable comment. The St. George filly was well backed at 5 to 2, but she never had a chance to show the form that enabled her to win her previous race, and she finished a length and a half out of the money. J. E. Beagram's Irish Witch, a 5 to 1 good thing, on the other hand, was splendidly ridden by Wonderly, who let her down at the head of the stretch, to win, ridden out, by a couple of lengths from the favorite, St. Valentine, reduced to 4 to 1. The time was 1:47 3-5.

who had two and a half lengths over Damon .

Hildebrand also failed to land Joe Yeager's Mimosa, a hot favorite, near the money in th first race at six furlongs. The Hamburg filly was back in the ruck all the way and never had a look in. Counterpoise, 8 to 1. was the winner by a length and a half; Old England, 9 to 2, having the same margin over Right and True, quoted at similar odds. Dick Bernard, who was off poorly, was a head back, closing strongly, and might have won under more favorable circum-stances. The time was 1:13 2-5.

Sleepy handling of Sydney's Paget's D'Arkle, 5 to 1, by Lucien Lyne lost the third race, for two-year-olds, at six furlongs. Lyne paid all of his attention to James R. Keene's Fancy Dress. 3 to 1, in a hot drive through the stretch, and did not see Juvenaga, 8 to 1, who squeezed through on the rail in the last fifty yards and won by a whisker in 1:14 3-5. D'Arkle only beat Fancy Dress a nose, with Foxy, the favorite, a length and a half back.

Hildebrand redeemed himself somewhat in the fifth race, for maiden two-year-old fillies, at five and a half furlongs, when he landed Sheen, 3 to 1 favorite, winner by a nose. Witch Hazel, 9 to 2, was in front up to the last jump, and beat My Buela, 5 to 1, by three lengths, the latter making the pace with a small advantage to the head of the gretch. The time was 1:08.

In the sixth race, a handicap for all ages at nine furlongs, Sidney C. Love, the favorite waited too long before making his run with the son of Dr. Rice, who was unable to over-take Billy Lakeland's Little Em, the winner by three lengths in 1:53. It was a tight fit for the place at that, Love taking it from Sonoma Belle by an eyelash. James F. was ridden by Higgins in a manner that made the smart fellows laugh, while Dalesman, again tipped and played, proved no account. PIRST RACE.

CRICAGO, Oct. 28 .- A fair sized crowd was at programme. The feature event, the fifth race, a seven furious purse affair, was taken by Floral King, second choice, at 6 to 5, which beat the favorite, Big Ben, rather easily. There were but four starters, and Big Ben was held at 3 to 4 in the betting.

GANS AND BRITT FIGHT. Negre, It Is Said, Has Some Trouble in Getting to Weight.

As the date of the contest between Joe Cans and Jimmy Britt for the lightweight championship of the world approaches, interest in the outcome grows apace. The pair are to meet next Monday night at San Francisco in a 20 round bout at 133 pounds, ringside. In town those who follow doings in the prizering have made a number of wagers on the outcome. The negro is a natural favorite, although most of the wagers have been placed at even money. It is thought that by to-morrow, at the latest the price on Gans to win will be 8 to 5 despite the discouraging reports that are emanating from his training camp. It is said that the negro is having the struggle of his career in reducing to 133 pounds. It is announced that he is only down to 136 pounds, and is pretty much used up as a result of his trying to get to the required scale.

These reports, especially as to Gans's weight, must be taken with a grain of salt. Those who know anything about Gans and weight, must be taken with a grain of salt. Those who know anything about Gans and the methods of his manager, Al Herford, realize that Herford would not have made the match if he thought his protege would be unable to live up to all the requirements. Many of the wiseacres think that Herford is trying to convey the impression that Gans is having trouble to get to weight just to influence the betting, knowing that Gans will enter the ring favorite. He may also be planning for an excuse should Gans meet with a reverse. If this comes to pass he could easily say that the weight incapacitated Gans and taxed his vitality to such an extent that he was not prepared to do himself justice. Of course, this is mere supposition and should be taken for all it is worth.

Ed Graney, who is to referee the contest, had a talk with Gans yesterday about the rules under which the men are to scrap. Graney assured Gans that he could expect the fairest of treatment.

"Don't let the fact that you are colored disturb you," said Graney. "I will protect you at all times and the best man will win. Gans and Britt are to fight under straight Marquis of Queensberry rules, which permit the men to punch in clinches as long as one hand and one arm is free. They must protect themselves at all times and break when ordered to do so.

Mike (Twin) Sullivan has issued a challenge to fight the winner and has posted $1,000 to show that he means business. He has agreed to weigh in at 133 pounds at $3 o'clock on the afternoon of the mill. Mike is a clever lightweight and has an excellent record.

LONG RACE FOR AUTO BOATS.

LONG RACE FOR AUTO BOATS 140 Mile Contest for the Vingt et Un,

X P D N C and Challenger. Three auto boats, the Vingt et Un, the X P DN Cand the Challenger, will start this mornon the longest contest ever arranged for in this country. They will start from off the Columbia Yacht Club house, at the foot of West Eighty-sixth street, and race to Poughkeepsie and back. This is a distance of 140 miles, and as not one of the boats has ever raced more than thirty nautical or 34.5 statute miles this will be a severe test of the engines of the boats. John H. McIntosh is chairman of the committee in charge of the race. At Poughkeepsie there will be a representative of the committee. who will time the boats as they turn one of the piers of the bridge.

The boats will race without time allow-The boats will race without time allowance and no allowance will be made for any stop that may be required to take on a fresh supply of gasolene. It was hoped that the Mercedes VI., Speedway, Macaroni and other fast boats would take part in the contest, but these have been laid up for the winter.

The A P D N C is a new boat built by Herreshoffs for Frank Croker. She is 40 feet long and is fitted with a 90 horse-power Mercedes motor. Mr. Croker will steer this boat, which at the best will be a very cold job. The Challenger is owned by Smith & Mabley and she will be steered by A. D. Proctor Smith. This boat is 40 feet long and has a 150 horse-power simplex motor. She competed for the British International cup, but was beaten. In recent trials she made 1.1 knots at the rate of more than 26 statute miles an hour and, barring accidents, those who are interested in her think she will win. The Vingt et Un is owned by W. S. Kilmer. She is 35 feet long and has a 75 horse-power motor. This boat will be steered by her designer, Clinton H. Crane.

French and English auto boats have taken part in several long distance races, but this is the first one arranged for in these waters, and the result will be watched with much interest by faddists of this type of boat. It is said that the Government is also interested in the experiment and that naval officers will be on hand to watch the race. ance and no allowance will be made for any

FRANKIE NEIL BACK.

American Bantam Fighter Says English

Rules Made Him Lose to Bowker. Frankie Neil, the former bantam cham pion of the world, who left his fistic laurels in England when he was defeated by Jem Bowker, returned home yesterday on the Baltic. Neil was accompanied by his father, Jim Neil. The pugilist thought that if given another chance he would be able to beat his former opponent. "The English rules handicapped me a great deal," said Neil. "I was at loss to interpret them properly, and this fact in a measure helped to defeat me. But there is no denying that Bowker is a good man. He deserves all the credit in the world for his success. He promised to give me a return match, and I guess he will keep his word.

I was not in the best of trim. You know, the climate in England is materially different from our own. You have got to get used to it. I thought that two weeks would be sufficient to put me in the best of condition, but I soon realized my mistake. We were originally to have met on Oct. 10, but I was ill and the contest had to be postponed until Oct. 17. Even at that I was not right. I will know better the next time and will take plenty of time to get into trim. I think that our next fight will be decided in America.

Neil, in conclusion, said that he was treated with great respect by English sportsmen and that he will always have a good word to say of the trip. As regards Bowker's plans, he thinks the Englishman will visit America pretty soon.

If he concludes to come here, observed. helped to defeat me. But there is no deny plans, he thinks the Englishman will visit America pretty soon.

"If he concludes to come here," observed Neil, "you will see a good twohanded fighter, and I am confident that he will be able to successfully hold his own against the best bantams in the business." Neil will return to the Pacific Coast in a few days with his father.

COACHING AT HARVARD.

Prof. H. S. White Comes Out in Favor of Professional to Instruct Crews.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 28.—An article by Prof. H. S. White, chairman of the Harvard athletic committee, written for the November issue of the Harvard Monthly, shows that Harvard is soon to change from her established policy of amateur coaching for her crews and go of amateur coaching for her crews and go over to professional coaching. The article, written in reply to a criticism of the committee by an article on the rowing situation in the Monthly last month, states the relation of the committee to the university and further states that had Harvard been able to find the right man last year she would have gone to professional coaching then. Prof. White further says that no matter what has been the opinion of Harvard men as to professional crew coaching in the past, evidence from all sides has come to the committee to the effect that they now favor the professional system.

Tom Sharkey Nearly Counted Out for Good. Although very few folks knew it, Tom Sharkey has had a close call from being put to sleep for good. The noted ex-sailor has just recovered from a five weeks' battle with typhoid fever coupled with pneumonia. He typhoid fever coupled with pneumonia. He was out on Thursday for the first time since he became ill. Sharkey caught cold in Baltimore while attending the annual convention of the Eagles. He neglected it and afterward the fever developed. During his illness Sharkey lost over 26 pounds. He is still very weak.

Thought sure they would count me out forever, Baid Tom to THE SUN reporter yesterday. T guess it was my strong constitution that saved me more than anything else. I will from now on take the best of care of myself, and look after colds in the future. I don't think I will ever fight again. It was my first long illness, and I tell you I'm glad to be on deck once more."

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK

FALMOUTH'S RUNAWAY A BIT OF LUCK FOR J. L. HOLLAND.

Incident Enables Him to Bet on Counter poise After Arriving at the Track Late—Yeager Loses Mimosa in a Selling Race-Many Tips That Go Astray. On the way to the post for the first race vesterday Falmouth, a 100 to 1 shot, took the bit in his teeth and, despite the heroic efforts of midget Hennessy to check him, the old horse raced around the track in wild fashion. After going a mile, Falmouth slowed up, but he was only fooling, for he quickly resumed his wild running and covered the circuit again, the little jockey tugging at the reins until he was exhausted Still another mile was reeled off before the horse gave way to nature and stopped of his own accord. But he was so far away from the post that it required fully five minutes more to get him off the track, the stewards in the mean time having rung the bell as a signal that he had been withdrawn.

The runaway was a piece of good fortune for J. L. Holland, the owner of Counterpoise, who won at 8 to 1. Holland started from the city for the track about noon in his big automobile, but the machine broke down half way to Jamaica, and Holland was in a and his followers were anxiously waiting for him at the track. He arrived, as he thought, about five minutes too late, but when he saw Falmouth galloping round and round he hurried into the ring and bet $500 on Counterpoise at even money to show. This was better than letting the Bathampton gelding run unbacked, but it is safe to say that if Holland had arrived earlier he would have played Counterpoise to win, as Trainer

Smith thought he was a cinch.

There was no limit to the betting on Mimosa in this race, as the Hamburg filly was almost the unanimous selection of the tipsters and handicappers. Joe Yeager had kept her in the barn for several weeks, but that made no difference with the foxy bookmakers, who opened her at even money. Yeager would not accept this small price, but he went through the ring looking for 6 to 5, and wherever this price was on tap he put a good bet down. As if it was not hard enough luck for Mimosa to lose the race. Yeager was forced to give the filly up, as she was claimed by W. H. Snyder for $2,600. Yeager bought her at the Whitney sale in the spring for about $5,000, and won her out several times over. He hated to part with her, as she would have been very useful at Los Angeles this winter.

The Sullivans backed Old England, straight and place, and won on the result.

If Dick Bernard had won, M. L. Hayman would have been a very sad individual, as he let the cole way.

let the colt run unbacked. All of J. E. Seagram's horses seem to be worth a bet these days. Following Scotch Plume's victory over Hamburg Belle on Thursday, at 30 to 1, Irish Witch was put across the plate in the second event yesterday at 5 to 1, and the Seagram checks were down, too. The Thomas-Shields commission on St. Valentine in this race was more than $5,000, it was said. The Huguenot and Damon were both backed down in this race.

The third race bristled with tips. J. L.

Holland's Belle Dixon was played down to 8 to 1. G. F. Johnson's Oro was lowered from 50 to 30. Winchester was reduced from backed, place and show, while James R. Keene's Fancy Dress carried a load of smart money at threes. Foxy was regarded as a false favorite, and Juvenaga was played by those who did not keep off because Schilling had the leg up.
All of the Tammany politicians backed

Frank Farrell's Champlain, who received an unusually good ride from Travers. Mr. Farrell was not at the track. Belle of Manhattan was handed right off the griddle in the fifth race. She was steadily backed from 40 to 1 down to eights, and ran thirteenth. Sheen went back in the betting to 3 to 1. For an apprentice, Collins did Witch Hazel full justice. Apple Blossom, in the same race, was backed down to 40 from 100. Yeager and his associates lost heavily on Sidney C. Love, while Dalesman made a big hole in Mattie Corbett's bank roll. Little Em was widely played at the last moment. "That was the closest three horse finish I have seen this season," said Presiding Judge Clarence McDowell after the third race.
"Juvenaga won by a couple of inches, while D'Arkle just nosed Fancy Dress out of third money." Those who saw the finish from a point opposite the betting ring did not think that Juvenaga got into the money. The train leaving Long Island City at 1:30 o'clock yesterday broke down on the way, and the passengers did not see the first race "Follow the wise money!" is the cry nowadays, for it is generally placed correctly, regardless of public form.

What may be unusually interesting sport will be provided for the patrons of the Jamaica track to-day. A good field has been named to start in the Southold Handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, including the Hayman pair. Gloriffer has the heaviest impost in the Cutchogue Handicap, for two-year-olds at six furlongs, with Augur, Glenecho, Pasadena, Merry Lark and Dandelion all formidable at the weights. Augur is also named for the handicap at six furlongs, his weight being 110 pounds, with Monet and Escutched dangerous and Ascension apparently too heavily burdened. In the second race, at mile and seventy yards, Namtor, Lord Badge and Thistie Heather seem the best, while in the fifth race, at nine furlongs, Midshipman, Lord Badge, Namtor and Gravina figure prominently. Maiden two-year-olds in the last race, at five and a half furlongs, Oxford, Yorkshire Lad, Yeoman, Supreme Court and Goldfleur being about the best.

Boxing to Be Cut Out at Brockton Here-

Boxing is to be cut out at Brockton, Mass. in the future. This will be discouraging, news to a large number of pugilists, because of the fact that this is considered an excellent fighting town. City Marshal W. A. Boyden has put a veto on all further boxing exhibitions by athletic clubs in that city. He has consented to allow the exhibitions scheduled at the Young Men's Social and Athletic Club, but has informed the management that they must be the last. Complaints have been received, and, the Marshal says, upon investigation he has decided that the bouts are nothing else than prizefights, and he will have no more of them. The sporting men of Brockton are up in arms over the stopping of the game, but they will have to abide by the Marshal's decision. of the fact that this is considered an excellent

Interesty Team Match To-day at Garden City-Other Events. With but few exceptions, the rival tens to meet at the Garden City Golf Club to-day in the second half of the annual home and home match between the Metropolitan Golf Association and the Golf Association of Philadelphia were on the links yesterday for practice rounds. R. C. Watson, Jr., acting captain of the home team, made an 84, which was as good as any of the cards. Under the soft and clinging turf of the greens, due to the heavy clinging turf of the greens, due to the heavy dew at this season, which makes the putting slow, an 84 may be deemed a fine average score, for the tees are back to the full championship distances and the round 6,444 yards. Neither Walter J. Travis nor Findlay S. Douglas made an appearance, although both are scheduled to play on the New York team. This morning the teams will meet at eighteen hole four ball matches and in the afternoon at single matches of eighteen holes.

In the final play for the women's cups at the Highland Golf Club on Thursday Mrs. William B. Donnell was the winner, Miss Lois Dunton was second and Miss Carolyn F. Ulrich third. Miss Ulrich, who played from scratch throughout the series, won the first cup, with 17 points; Mrs. George K. Meynen was second, with 14, and took the second cup, and Miss Lois C. Dunton, who had 12 points to her credit, won the third cup.

had 12 points to her credit, won the third cup.

New Haven, Oct. 28.—In the best match ever played on the links of the New Haven Country Club, Miss Pauline Mackay of the Oakley Club, Boston, this morning defeated Miss Georgianna Bishop of Bridgeport, the national champion, by 1 up, innineteen holes. Weather conditions frivored the players for the first time during the tournament, and both were in excellent form when they started out. Miss Mackay made the starplay of the morning when she won the ninth hole, 438 yards, in 4. She put from the edge of the green, 25 feet. Her opponent took 5, and that squared the match.

Coming in, the play was so even that they were all square after playing the eighteenth. The nineteenth hole was on the downhill, and Miss Mackay landed over the green about five yards. Miss Bishop, in 3, was about fifteen feet short of the hole. In her fourth Miss Mackay played with three feet of the hole. The champion struck her opponent's ball, knocked it within a foot of the hole and laid herself a stymie. On her fifth stroke she did not come within two feet of the cup, and Miss Mackay took the hole in 5. In the final round of the second series Miss. Nendleton Rogers of Baltusrol beat Miss Ruth Badgely of the Essex County Club, 4 up and 3 to play. Mrs. Rogers went out in 48, while her opponent took 51.

In the final of the third series Miss Elizabeth Chamberlain of this city beat Miss Elizabeth Carr of Springfield, 1 up. In the fourth series final Miss Kate Nettleton of Derby beat Mrs. J. H. D. Grannis of Waterbury, 2 up.

In the match for the lobster cup Mrs. E. F. Derby beat Mrs. J. H. D. Grannis of water-bury, 2 up.
In the match for the lobster cup Mrs. E. F. Sanford of the Essex County Club beat Migs G. Travers of the Nassau Club, by 5 up and 4 to go. Going out Mrs. Sanford made the best score of the day, covering the first nine holes in 44, while Miss Travers took 48.
The afternoon was devoted to the handicap tournament. Mrs. S. F. Lefferts of Englewood winning with a net score of 89. The best scores:

PRACTISING FOR AUTO MATCH. Oldfield Does a Mile in 54 Seconds, a Track

Record. Barney Oldfield, Leon Thery and Paul Sartori, three of the competitors in a four cornered ten-mile match to be run at the Empire City track to-day, were at the course yesterday practising for the contest. Maurice match was made following his victory over match was made following his victory over Oldfield at Brighton Beach.

Oldfield showed some fast work. He drove five miles from a standing start, each one of which, except the first, was done under 55 seconds. One of the miles was run in 54 seconds, which beats the best record for the course, 54 4-5 seconds, made by Oldfield and formerly a world's record. This feat, following his ride of five miles on Thursday in 5:37, which beat the world's record of 5:37 2-5, held by Charles Barle, has made Oldfield the favorite in to-day's race.

Thery, the European champion, drove constantly during the afternoon, but failed to get under the minute for a mile. He complained of his carburettor not working well and will change it for to-day's race. Sartori was satisfied to take no risks and keep to a 57 second rate for the mile.

The first heat of the match will take place at 3 o'clock, and the second and final at half hour intervals afterward. There will be a preliminary match race at half past 2 o'clock and several tries for the records.

Peter Maher Again Knocked Out.

Peter Maher went into the ring for another try with the gloves at Philadelphia on Thursday night. Maher met Fred Cooley of Chi cago in a six round bout before the Broadway A. C. It was the same old story, Maher biting the dust in a jiffy in the first round. Although Cooley never made any pretensions to being in the front ranks he outclassed Maher to such an extent that it was really a shame for him to face his opponent. In less than two minutes Maher was knocked out. The end came so rapidly that many in the crowd were cruel enough to say that Maher deliberately quit. But the Irishman did not. He simply got a hard clout on the jaw and could not arise before the limit.

Maher was far from being in trim. The first punch in the wind, a right drive, took all of the gruelling out of Maher. The hext mix-up was as surprising as it was sudden. Cooley made some sort of bluff and Maher went to the floor from a quickly delivered smash. He got up and Cooley sailed right in. Maher dropped from a punch that seemed to have about half as much force and speed as the first blow that sent him down. Maher rolled on his back, closed his eyes and the mill was all over. way A. C. Norfolk Horse Show.

NORFOLE, Va., Oct. 28.—The Norfolk horse show was continued to-day with increased success. The classes exhibited were composed principally of hunters in which the Cameron Run Hunt Club showed with telling effect. The hunt club team exhibit, with entries from Cameron Run, Va., Orange county, Va. and West Chester, N. Y., was the main event of the day and was won by these respective teams in the order named. Mrs. Grosvenor's entries continued their merited success. The four-in-hand teams driven by Messrs. Donnally and Ryan carried off the main honors, while in the saddle classes Corinne and Petroleum were unbeatable.

Mrs. Blair Johnson's entry, Robin Adair, which up to the present year had been the unvanquished champion of the South, failed to land within the ribbons.

The high jump was won by Bob Taylor's Grey Rock at 5 feet 6 inches. After this performance Louie Leith, on Lady Belle, cleared 6 feet 4 inch in an exhibition. Cameron Run Hunt Club showed with telling Arrangements for Cable Chess Match Arrangements have been completed by the Brooklyn Chess Club whereby it will be possible to play the ninth match of the international cable series between America and Great Britain next spring. No match was neid this year on account of the cables not being available for the purpose. The customary challenge from the City of London Chess Club has been received and will be acted upon at the annual meeting of the Brooklyn Chess Club this afternoon.

Sir George Newnes, donor of the trophy, and president of the City of London Chess Club, is at present in Washington, but will be back by Monday. He will return home by the steamship Baltic, sailing on Wednesday. His trophy has been in this country the past five years, the British teams having been unable to wrest it from the Americans during all that time. Sir George will probably get a glimpse of it before he leaves. ternational cable series between America

Autoists Meet to Form New York Motor Club. A meeting of automobilists was held last night at Bretton Hall, Eighty-sixth street and Broadway, looking to the formation of a new club. The matter was talked over in-formally and it was decided to issue a call for next Thursday night, when the New York Motor Club will be formally organized. The new club will embrace owners of automobiles, motor boats and motor bicycles. One of the objects will be to hold weekly discussions on matters relating to these sports.

Joe Bernstein Matched to Meet Kid Hugo in Private.

Joe Bernstein, who has not been doing much fighting lately, has decided to return to the ring. He has been matched to meet Kid Hugo, an East Side pugilist, in a finish fight in private on Nov. 4. They are to meet somewhere up the State. Although Hugo is not much known it is thought that he will be able to give Bernstein some kind of an argument. Bernstein is now in good trim, and if he wins he will go after bigger game.

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD.

BIG TEAMS COME IN DIRECT CON-

TACT TO-DAY.

Coach Morley Says Yale Will Have a Tough Job Beating Columbia—The Teams Compared—Harvard Tackles Quakers and Tigers Encounter Cornell Eleven.

Three of the football games scheduled for to-day bring twice that number of foremost universities into direct contact. Harvard vs. Pennsylvania, Yale vs. Columbia, Prince-ton vs. Cornell, all on the same day, such is the unusual and attractive programme. Whether these games be close or one sided, the prominence of the seams makes the games of great interest. The unusual fact that three of the leading six have already been beaten does not lessen the interest in the least. There are other good games on the schedule, which follows:

Harvard vs. Pennsylvania, at Cambridge. Yale vs. Columbia, at New York. Princeton vs. Cornell, at Ithaca. Carlisle Indians vs. Virginia, at Norfolk. Dickerson vs. Lehigh, at South Bethlehem. Wesleyan vs. Dartmouth, at Middletown. Michigan vs. Wisconsin, at Madison. Chicago vs. Illinois, at Chicago. Rochester vs. Colgate, at Rochester. West Point vs. Williams, at West Point.
Union vs. Rutgers, at Schenectady.
Harvard, '06, vs. Worcester Academy, at Cambridge. Yale, '08, vs. Andover, at Andover, Georgetown vs. Holy Cross, at Philadelphia. Lafayette vs. Manhattan, at Easton. Annapolis vs. Swarthmore, at Annapolis. St. Paul's vs. Lawrenceville, at Lawrenceville. Fordham vs. St. Joseph's, at Fordham. N. Y. U. vs. R. P. 1., at Ohio Field. Amherst vs. Massachusetts State, at Amherst.

There is nothing in their respective scores against rivals to make Yale such a pronounced favorite over Columbia to-day. True, Columbia has shown up poorly in her last two games, with Amherst and Pennsylvania, losing them both; but Yale lost her last game and was scored on twice in her game before that. The Blue and White has been scored on five times in her last two games; but Yale has had her goal line crossed three times and had one field goal kicked against her in the last two games. So on that basis of argument there s not much choice, and if Yale is generally picked as the winner it must be the result of an individual comparison of the elevens and form shown by the Elis irrespective of scores-form that indicates potential strength.
Coincident with Yale's defeat by West Point there was play by the Blue that would warrant any future rival indulging in serious reflection. At the same time, Columbia has at no time this season played up to the full individual and team ability which she possesses. Columbia generally shows her best football against Yale-if not all the game, part of t-and if Columbia gets together in team work to-day she may be counted on to make a better showing than previous form pro-

Taking the two teams man for man, the Elis have the call. Neal and Shevlin, the Yale ends, have shown superior class to Post and Muir of Columbia. Shevlin when on edge is a peerless end, but neither of the Yale pair has played in championship form as yet. Hogan and Bloomer of Yale are the best pair of tackles on the field, each a fine ground gainer and defensive player. Their respective opposites are Brown and Thorp, a sturdy, aggressive pair, not as experienced or well versed in the fine points of their posi-tions as Hogan and Bloomer, but not to be trifled with. At guard Kinney, Yale, faces Stangland, Columbia, and Tripp, Yale, lines stangland, Columbia, and Tripp, Yale, faces up against Duden, Columbia. Kinney needs to be wide awake all the time to handle the cood, alert Stangland, who is an adept at breaking through. Tripp of Yale is also an expert at this accomplishment, follows the ball splendidly and is a thoroughly high class guard. He meets an aggressive man in Duden. Roraback, the Yale centre, is much heavier than rinnegan of Columbia, but not so active. Yale is heavier in the line by about 120 pounds, The Columbia back field is a trifle heavier than Yale's, but does not appear to have as much speed or as much unison on the offence, but about as good on the defence. All else being equal, Rockwell, Morse, Veeder and Owsley look a more proficient quartet than Donovan, Helmrich, Duell and Carter of Columbia, but football games are fought out in the line, and a back field partakes of the ability of its forwards. The matter of mistakes and taking advantage of opportunities always is present in a football game, lending uncertainty and tending to equalize. Some of the reports of Yale's practice this week have it that the 'varsity's work was pretty poor and that the 'varsity's work was pretty poor and that the coaches are glum.

Columbia's players had complete rest yesterday. There was no signal practice, and the men merely took a short walk in the afternoon. Coach Morley was backward about expressing an opinion that Columbia could win the game. His manner betokened confidence, however, when he said: "If we do not win against Yale, in any event our opponents will have a tough job beating us. The accumulated exasperation over two successive defeats by opponents not really our superiors has made the team eager to get out and show what it really is good for

to get out and show what it really is good for."

The Columbia men, with the exception of Carter, are in prime condition. The full back still suffers from a kick in the back, but is expected to play well this afternoon. The record of games between Yale and Columbia, is: 1899—Columbia, 5; Yale, 0, 1900—Yale, 10; Columbia, 5, 1901—Yale, 11; Columbia, 5, 1903—Yale, 25; Columbia, 0, Yale's team of 1900 was a remarkably powerful aggregation, but got its hardest game of the season from Columbia. It was in the throes of a slump at the time, and if there is a slump on at Yale just now it is not impossible that the New Haven men will again catch a Tartar. The statistics of the teams:

Arrangements are being made for a Thanksgiving game at the Polo Grounds between teams of United States soldiers and sailors.
There are some rattling good players in the army posts about New York and good teams, as well, and the navy has on its battleships some men who have played the game. The soidiers have had the advantage of coaching from Lieuts. Farnsworth and Bunker, former West Point stars. The army Regulars had a team which played in the Garden last winter and was the hit of that tournament by its energetic methods. The sailors will not be behindhand in expert coaching, and the game, if played, will make up in rivalry and earnestness whatever it may lack in technical proficiency. At that, football ability will not be wanting.

The most that can be said of the Pennsylvania squad is that they are sanguine and cheerful. Hope always rages strong on the eve of a football game, no matter how formidable the foe. The Quakers are not beaten yet and are not overawed, though Harvard is just beginning to strike her real form. Like the Crimson, the Quakers so far have not tasted of defeat. The latter have a good back field, but the line is not evenly balanced, and in this department everything points to superior steadiness and strength to back up the superior weight. The Princeton-Cornell game is regarded as more of an unknown quantity, but a scoring game because of strong offensive work done by both teams. The Tigers are further along in team play than the Ithacans and appear to be stronger individually, and a defeat for them would be more than a mild s urprise.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Oct. 28.—The practice for the last few days has been hard in preparation for the game to-morrow with the Naval Academy at Annapolis, but the prospects of a victory are not very bright owing to a run of injuries and hard luck. Sinclair, the heavy line bucking full back, is out of it with a bad muscle bruise, as is also Jackson. left half back, Pritchard and Whitman-will likely fill their places, but it is feared that the team work and speed of the back field will be much lessened. WILLAMSTOWN, Oct. 27.—The Williams team held its last practice yesterday before the West Point game. Although Yale's defeat by West Point places the Soldiers at a high level, yet the great improvement of the Williams team against Hamilton encourages its supporters to look for a low score. Murray, who carried the ball on tackle back plays proved the best ground gainer and has kept up his good work this week. Capt. Watson will play, and his forty yard punts will probably prevent many touchdowns by the Army. Waters, the freshman quarter back, continues to improve, and it is expected that little gain can be made around the two ends. Stocking and Eder. The team will spend to-night at Newburgh.

Newburgh.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 28.—Lafayette meets Manhattan here to-morrow. The players are in excellent condition and expect to win handily. Ellicott, who has been out of the game since Princeton was played, is again in form. Small has been made a 'warsity player. He is a new man in college and pute up a fine game on the line. Capt. Morrison is still looking for a reliable man for goal kicking. Shuster, who saved the day against Swarthmore, crippled an ankle yesterday, and this is looked upon as a distinct loss for the time. The statement that Crowell, Swarthmore's crack goal kicker, was not in last Saturday's game, came as a surprise here, for Lafayette men cannot understand how this report arose. Crowell played well and handled his team well. The reason Crowell did not attempt a goal from the field is that Swarthmore did not get near enough to Lafayette's goal to try.

the night before a big game, and there was a good deal of visiting going on that rather stirred up the men.

There will be seventy men in the squad that leaves to-morrow morning at 9:35, and there will be hundreds of Yale men along to cheer for the Blue during the game. There was very little scrimmaging during the secret practice this afternoon, the perfecting of formations being the main effort. Some new plays were tried that are intended to make havoe with the Columbia boys. Signal practice followed when the gates were opened. To-night on the campus Yale men sald they would not be satisfied with less than three touchdowns. Every man except Rockwell is reported in fine condition. He may not play to-morrow. It looks to-night as if Hutchinson, who has been developing into a steady player, will go the whole game at quarter. It was understood that McCoy would be in at full back for the first time. It was said to be the program of the coaches that, if Columbia should start a kicking game, Veeder, who will start at left half back, will be taken out and Hoyt sent in in his place.

Coach Fultz yesterday gave a long and hard preparation to the New York University team for the Rennselaer game. Eighteen men were played on the scrub team. Considerable time was spent in practising formations for receiving the kick-off. Halford and Cragin took the ball nearly every time, and both men did well in running back the kick. Cragin got the oval once on the five yard line and tore through the eighteen scrub players for a run of sixty yards. The teams were then lined up for fifteen minutes scrimmage work. Neither side was able to score, but the 'varsity tackles ripped up the solub line for frequent gains of over ten yards. The team that will line up against Rennselaer this afternoon will be the strongest, both on the offensive and defensive, that has represented New York University this season. It should be particularly strong on the attack, for Fultz intends to use every man but the centre in advantage and hard Raidirs: right tackl

Belcher; full back, Cragin.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 28.—Harvard and Pennsylvania will play their fifteenth annual game of football on Soldiers Field here to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clook. Of the fourteen games that have been played Harvard has won 10 and Pennsylvania, 4. It has been six years since the Quakers won from the Crimson, and it is not likely that the string will be broken to-morrow. Were it not for a possible chance that Parker may not be able to play at left guard, Harvard would have no doubts about the game, but there is no real strong substitute to replace him in case the doctors decide that he cannot play, and one weak spot may mean considerable. Harvard has been coming right along this week. Her defence has improved every day, and she has added a number of plays to her attack since she defeated the Indians on the straight game. Her defence, which has been strong all the year, has been stiffened up this week, and if the 'varsity can get together as it did in practice on Wednesday and yesterday there should be no doubt about the game. New Haven, Oct. 28.—The Yale managers at the last moment this afternoon, decided that it were better for the team to remain in this city to-night instead of spending the night at the Murray Hill Hotel, as had been planned in the preliminary arrangements for the Yale-Columbia game in New York to-morrow afternoon, It was the opinion of the coaches that the Yale squad would get a much better rest here than in New York, and that the train ride to-morrow morning to the metropolis would not tire the players very much. The coaches said there was always more or less noise and excitement at the hotel in New York when the Yale glayers gathered there was always more or less noise and excitement at the hotel in New York when the Yale glayers gathered there was always more or less noise and excitement at the hotel in New York when the Yale glayers gathered there was always more or less noise and excitement at the hotel in New York when the Yale glayers gathered there was a good deal of visiting going on that rather stirred up the men.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 28.—In an article for the Harvard Monthly for November, Capt. D. J. Hurley sizes up the football situation as follows:

"With only four weeks before the Yale game and one week of secret practice already over, the team may fairly be said to be entering on its final preparation for the game at New Haven. The preliminary season has been at once encouraging and discouraging. It has been impossible to get any real line on what the first team can do, on account of the injuries, which have been, unfortunately, many. On the other hand, there is considerable good material from which to choose. There are a number of heavy men for the line from tackle to tackle. Parker at guard and Barney at centre, two big freshmen, have been showing up finely in the practice games. Brill, who promised well at the beginning of the season, but who has been out of the game for a long time, has just got back into practice and has played well since. The work of Noyes and Kernan has removed most of the anxiety about the quarter back position, and the candidates for the back field include a number of good men. The ends have been constantly shifted in the attempt to pick a pair at once fast and sufficiently heavy, and here there is still considerable uncertaints." It is impossible at this time to make any forecast about the result of the Yale game. The team has been so long unsettled that, while the material seems to be pretty good, development has necessarily been slow. If the players can go through the next weeks without injury, we shall go down to New Haven with strong hopes of winning; but at present the most that can be said is that the seam has possibilities of being very strong, but has not as yet been able fully to realize these possibilities.

ITHACA, Oct. 28—Princeton is still the favorite, as is indicated by the betting

ITHACA, Oct. 28—Princeton is still the favorite. as is indicated by the betting odds of 2 to 1 in to-morrow's football game with Cornell. Nothing has occurred to increase Cornell's confidence of victory, and students as a rule are only hoping that their team can hold the Tigers down to one or two touchdowns. All of the men are in the best physical condition with the excention of Costello, who goes into the game with his injured knee bothering him not a little. The statistics of the two teams show that Princeton outwelphs Cornell two pounds to the man, but that the line is nine pounds the heavier. Since it is in the forwards that weight counts the Ithacans have by farthelighter team. They therefore hope for a dry field. Weather indications, however, point to a warm and rainy afternoon. The town has taken on its gala attire and is full of visiting alumni and Princeton students, who have come 200 strong.
